

September Leaves

SEPTEMBER LEAVES IS GOLDEN.

A golden brown forest in september, a misty dawn and a lonely vagabond form the basics of our story. Here arises what generally might be described as a catharsis; the inner purification that restores something beautiful. September Leaves whispers softly in the ears of humanity what might be long forgotten: Every end is a new beginning. Sometimes powerful, sometimes quiet September Leaves is telling a tale of the circle of time.

September Leaves does not sound like BEIRUT, GETWELL-SOON or SUFJAN STEVENS – he just sounds like September Leaves...

When September Leaves something beautiful arises.
